

A good education is the greatest gift you can ever give to yourself. But as Nobel Laureate Anatole France once said, “Nine-tenths of education is encouragement.” That is why we are proud to offer encouragement – and the necessary funds – to help students continue their education through the Johnson County Chesapeake Scholarship. With a burning desire to learn – and up to $3,000 a year for four years – there’s no limit to what you can do! Now is the time to make an important investment in yourself – and your future. Apply today and begin turning your dreams into reality.

About Chesapeake Energy

Chesapeake Energy is one of America’s leading producers of natural gas. Founded in 1989, Chesapeake is a pioneer in energy production and continues to be at the forefront of natural gas development. Natural gas is clean, abundant, affordable and American. Chesapeake is committed to sharing the benefits of the Barnett Shale with the communities in which it operates. Through incentives such as the Johnson County Chesapeake Scholarship, students win. Communities win. Together, we all win.

About the Scholarship

By providing scholarships for Johnson County students, this program will help develop tomorrow's leaders today through higher education. Sometimes the only obstacle preventing a high school senior from becoming a college graduate is the financial means to attend a university, and Chesapeake wants to encourage and support all students with a desire to learn. This scholarship helps qualified students from Johnson County high schools pay for the college or vocational school of their choice by providing up to $3,000 a year for four years.

“It was a big relief to have this scholarship and not have to worry about taking out student loans to pay for college.”

Allison Brown, 2009 Scholarship Recipient

*Education is not the answer to a question.
Education is the means to answer all questions.*
